

CAREER TALKS

Explore, connect and get inspired

Spring Term 2022

Spring Term 2022

CAREER TALKS

Explore, connect and get inspired

1. Law (sports media and contract law) Monday 7th March
2. TV production Tuesday 8th March
3. Educational psychology Thursday 10th March
4. Writing and Publishing Monday 14th March
5. Midwifery Wednesday 16th March
6. Architectural Engineering Tuesday 22nd March
7. From Farming to Finance Wednesday 23rd March

(All talks are in the School Hall, 1.25 - 2.05pm)

1: Law (sports media and contract law)

Monday 7th March, 1.25-2.05pm, in the Hall

Richard McMorris is a lawyer and a partner in the international law firm Bird & Bird. He specialises in sports media and sports contracts, and he has a lot of knowledge about general law practice.

If you're interested in finding out being a lawyer or solicitor, or if you have an interest in sports media or contract law, don't miss this opportunity!

At least one person from each tutor group should attend each Career talk, so they can feed back key points to the rest of their tutor group.

2: TV Production

Tuesday 8th March, 1.25-2.05pm, in the Hall

Kevin Connor is a freelance technical manager with over 40 years of experience in the television industry. His recent work includes: Rugby Union - BT Sport, Love Island – ITV, Football - UEFA Champions' League.

Come to this talk to get an insight into the many and varied jobs in the TV industry, from engineering to production.

At least one person from each tutor group should attend each Career talk, so they can feed back key points to the rest of their tutor group.

3: Educational psychology

Thursday 10th March, 1.25-2.05pm, in the Hall

Dr Sophie Fanshawe is an educational psychologist and a previous student of The Cotswold School. After her A levels Sophie went on to read Psychology at Loughborough University before studying for her doctorate at The University of Exeter.

Sophie now works as an educational psychologist for Hertfordshire County Council and is in the process of launching her own independent educational psychology company.

Come along to hear more about the journey to becoming an educational psychologist and the many, varied facets of a role in which every day is different.

At least one person from each tutor group should attend each Career talk, so they can feed back key points to the rest of their tutor group.

4: Writing and Publishing

Monday 14th March, 1.25-2.05pm, in the Hall

Rachel Bladon has had jobs in children's publishing, English Language education publishing and is now a freelance writer and publisher. If you are interested in finding out more about a career in writing or publishing, then come along to this talk. There will be an opportunity to ask your own questions too.

At least one person from each tutor group should attend each Career talk, so they can feed back key points to the rest of their tutor group.

5: Midwifery

Wednesday 16th March, 1.25-2.05pm, in the Hall

Call the midwife? We did, and we're pleased to say that Katrina is coming to school to deliver a talk to you about her job as a community midwife.

Katrina looks after women throughout their pregnancy and up to 28 days after their baby is born. She also facilitates home births and supports in the delivery suite in hospitals if needed.

Come to this talk to find out how Katrina became a midwife, and to ask any questions you have about the joys and bumps of this job.

At least one person from each tutor group should attend each Career talk, so they can feed back key points to the rest of their tutor group.

6: Architectural Engineering

Tuesday 22nd March, 1.25-2.05pm, in the Hall

Dr Joel Callow is a building physicist, who works with architects and building engineers to try to decarbonise the built environment. He has spoken at conferences on the subject of climate change, architectural engineering and renewable energy systems, so we're fortunate that he's coming to our school to talk to us and answer our questions. Don't miss it if you're interested in science, geography or design.

At least one person from each tutor group should attend each Career talk, so they can feed back key points to the rest of their tutor group.

7: From Farming to Finance

Wednesday 23rd March, 1.25-2.05pm, in the Hall

Ben Backhouse grew up on a Cotswold farm and his career has ranged from fence building to techno festivals in Amsterdam, public relations to information technology and he currently works in financial services.

Come and find out why it doesn't matter where you start your career but that you must seize every opportunity to find your place in the world. (You might also learn a bit about working in finance and the life of the insurance market!)

At least one person from each tutor group should attend each Career talk, so they can feed back key points to the rest of their tutor group.

